

History Summer Camp Registration Form

June 7th through June 24th Monday through Thursday

8:30 am until 2:00 pm Fort Stockton Middle School

Students will use historical sites, libraries, internet, local historical society, and local elderly citizens to research Fort Stockton, Texas pre-1800. They will research and learn the Native Americans indigenous to the area, the first soldiers in the area, the first whites in the area, and the first Hispanics in the area. The Students will learn the contributions of each cultural group and will learn about some of the individuals in each group that contributed in a unique way to the development of the Fort Stockton region. As well, the students will recognize the original and gradual building of cooperation between the groups that makes Fort Stockton a culturally tolerant and inviting place today.

The students will create an electronic presentation of their research. The students will also write and perform their own original play of the history of Fort Stockton to be presented at the end of the camp.

Students will need their own transportation to and from the Middle School campus everyday. Lunch will be provided for the students.
